7-quart Mirage® drop-in induction rethermalizer with UK plug

Reliable and easy to use, the 7-quart Mirage drop-in induction rethermalizer by Vollrath fits seamlessly into your lineup and heats your soup, chili, mac and cheese or stew to perfect serving temperatures. Powerful induction technology does not require water, ensuring faster heating times, better temperature control and simpler operation. Three sensors monitor food temperatures on the inset, and an indicator light notifies you when the contents need to be stirred, helping to distribute heat evenly and prevent burning. And the unit won't provide heat until an induction-ready inset is placed inside to reduce energy waste. The remote control features four convenient presets or precise temperature settings in °F or °C, depending on your preference, and a locking function prevents accidental temperature changes. The unit comes with a Vollrath induction-ready inset and an inset cover, providing everything you need for operation.
